TREASON

162.010 "Treason" defined. The following acts constitute the crime of treason against this state:

(1) Levying war against this state within its boundaries.

(2) A combination of two or more persons, by force, to usurp or overturn the government of this state, evidenced by a forcible attempt made within this state to accomplish such purpose.

(3) Adhering to the enemies of this state while it is separately engaged in a war with a foreign enemy, in the cases prescribed in the Constitution of the United States, and giving to such enemies aid and comfort in this state or elsewhere.

162.020 What constitutes levying war against state. To constitute levying war against this state, an actual act of war must be committed. To merely conspire to levy war does not constitute levying war. Where persons rise in insurrection with intent to prevent in general, by force and intimidation, the execution of a statute of this state, or to force its repeal, they are guilty of levying war. However, an endeavor, although by numbers and force of arms, to resist the execution of a law in a single instance and for a private purpose is not levying war.

162.030 Punishment of treason. The penalty for treason is death, except when the trial jury in its verdict recommends life imprisonment, in which case the penalty shall be life imprisonment.

162.040 Proof of treason. Treason shall be proved by the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act.

162.050 to 162.100 [Reserved for expansion]

PERJURY

162.110 "Perjury" defined; procuring another to commit perjury. (1) Any person authorized by any law of this state to take an oath or affirmation, or of whom an oath or affirmation is required by law, who wilfully swears or affirms falsely in regard to any material matter or thing concerning which such oath or affirmation is authorized or required, is guilty of perjury.

(2) Any person who procures another to commit the crime of perjury is guilty of subornation of perjury.

162.120 Penalty for perjury. (1) Every person convicted of the crime of perjury committed on the trial of, or proceedings in, a criminal action for a crime punishable with death or imprisonment for life, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than 20 years.

(2) Every person convicted of the crime of perjury committed in any proceeding in a court of justice other than criminal actions described in subsection (1) of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than 10 years.

(3) Every person convicted of the crime of perjury committed otherwise than in a proceeding before a court of justice, or convicted of the crime of subornation of perjury, however committed, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than five years.

162.130 Penalty for attempting to procure another to commit perjury. Any person who endeavors to procure or incite another to commit the crime of perjury, though no perjury is committed, shall be punished upon conviction by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than three years.

162.140 False swearing or procuring another to commit false swearing; penalty; offenses included in perjury or procuring another to commit perjury. (1) Except as provided in ORS 411.630, any person authorized by any law of this state to take an oath or affirmation, or of whom an oath or affirmation is required by law, who wilfully swears or affirms falsely in regard to any matter or thing concerning which the oath or affirmation is authorized or required, whether or not the matter or thing is material, is guilty of false swearing.

(2) Any person who procures another to commit the crime of false swearing is guilty of subornation of false swearing.

(3) Violation of this section is punishable upon conviction by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding one year, or by a fine of not more than $5,000, or both.

(4) Any person charged under subsection (1) or (2) of ORS 162.110 may, within the meaning of ORS 136.660, be found guilty of violating subsection (1) or (2) of this section, as the case may be.

[1959 c.307 §1; 1961 c.312 §1]

162.150 Evidence used against person giving it on prosecution for perjury. Any section in the criminal and criminal procedure statutes which declares that evidence obtained upon the examination of a person as a witness shall not be received against him in a criminal proceeding does not forbid such evidence being proved against the person upon any proceedings founded upon a charge of perjury committed by the person in such examination.

162.160 Proof of perjury. Perjury shall be proved by the testimony of two witnesses, or one witness and corroborating circumstances.

162.170 to 162.200 [Reserved for expansion]
