(a) Until the expiration of the elective or appointive term of the justice of the peace in office in the city at the time it first meets the requirements of ORS 46.025, unless the justice of the peace is qualified to be a judge of the district court; or

(b) If the office of the justice of the peace in the city at the time it first meets the requirements of ORS 46.025 is vacant or thereafter becomes vacant for any reason, or if the county court petitions the Governor to appoint a judge of the district court prior to the expiration of the elective or appointive term of the justice of the peace in office in the city at the time it first meets the requirements of ORS 46.025, until a person qualified to be a judge of the district court is appointed by the Governor and qualifies. 46.028 [1961 c.724 §20; repealed by 1965 c.510 §24]

46.030 Territorial limits of district courts.

The territorial limits of a district court, over which the court shall have jurisdiction, shall be coextensive with the boundary of the county in which the court is located; however, in civil cases the territorial jurisdiction of the court shall be the same as that of a circuit court, subject to the same conditions and restrictions as apply to circuit courts and subject to the laws relating to venue of actions.

[Amended by 1953 c.112 §2]

District courts shall have concurrent jurisdiction with municipal courts of all violations of the charter and ordinances of any city wholly or in part within their respective counties, committed or triable within their respective counties.

(2) All fees, fines, bail forfeitures and other moneys collected and received by a district court in matters, causes and proceedings with respect to all violations over which such district court is granted judicial jurisdiction by subsection (1) of this section shall be collected, handled and disposed of by the clerk of such district court as otherwise provided by law for moneys collected and received by such district court.

[1971 c.633 §2]

46.050 Certain district judges as committing magistrates. One of the judges of a district court having two or more judges shall sit as committing magistrate as the judges agree among themselves.

[Amended by 1957 c.405 §3; 1961 c.724 §21]

46.060 Jurisdiction, civil, generally. (1) The district courts shall have jurisdiction, but not exclusive, in the following cases:

(a) For the recovery of money or damages only when the amount claimed does not exceed $2,500. When, in such a case arising out of contract, the ends of justice demand that an account be taken or that the contract or contracts be reformed or canceled, the district court shall have jurisdiction to decree such accounting, reformation or cancellation.

(b) For the recovery of specific personal property when the value of the property claimed and the damages for the detention do not exceed $2,500.

(c) For the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture, whether given by statute or arising out of contract, not exceeding $2,500.

(d) To give judgment without trial upon the confession of the defendant for any of the causes of action specified in this section, except for a penalty or forfeiture imposed by statute.

(e) To hear and determine actions of forcible entry and detainer.

(f) To enforce, marshal and foreclose liens upon personal property where the amount claimed for such liens does not exceed $2,500, and to render personal judgment therein in favor of any party.

(g) Actions and proceedings of interpleader and in the nature thereof, when the amount of money or the value of the property involved does not exceed $2,500.

(h) Actions and proceedings, whether legal or equitable, to preserve the property or rights of any party to an action of which the court has jurisdiction, and to enforce the collection of its own judgments, including all actions and proceedings in the nature of creditors' bills, and, in aid of execution, to subject the interest of a judgment debtor in personal property to the payment of such judgment. District courts shall not have jurisdiction to appoint receivers.

(2) Whenever an action or proceeding is properly brought in a district court, the court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine, preserve and enforce all rights involved therein, including all cases in equity when pleaded as defensive matter, and to exercise all legal and equitable remedies necessary or proper for complete determination of the rights of the parties, subject to the limitations imposed by this section.

(3) Wherever in this chapter reference is made to actions or proceedings, it includes any equitable proceeding of which a district court has jurisdiction, and reference to "costs of transfer" includes fees to the clerk of the district court for a transcript of the cause and includes fees to the clerk of the circuit court for filing the appearances of both the moving party and the responding party. The costs of transfer shall be tendered to the clerk of the district court.

(4) Whenever it shall appear from the pleadings in any cause that the title to real property is in dispute, the court shall order the pleading raising that question stricken, unless within five days the party who has raised such issue shall file with the clerk of the district court a written motion for the transfer of the cause to the circuit court, accompanied by the tender of the costs of such transfer.

If defendant does not so elect to have said cause transferred to the circuit court, the district court shall proceed to try and determine the cause. [1965 c.495 §3]

46.070 Jurisdiction of counterclaims. In all actions instituted in a district court a defendant shall have the right to plead a counterclaim in excess of the jurisdiction of the court. If a defendant has pleaded a counterclaim in excess of the jurisdiction of the district court, the court shall strike the counterclaim and proceed to try the cause as though it had never been filed, unless the defendant files with his counterclaim a motion requesting the cause to be transferred to the circuit court accompanied by the tender of the costs of such transfer. In any action instituted in a district court wherein the amount claimed by the plaintiff is not in excess of its jurisdiction and the amount claimed by the defendant by way of counterclaim is not in excess of its jurisdiction, the district court shall have jurisdiction of such cause notwithstanding the combined amounts of such claim and counterclaim exceed the sum of $2,500.

46.075 Procedure when case transferred to circuit court; additional pleadings; costs.

(1) The district court shall order the transfer to the circuit court of every cause authorized by this chapter to be so transferred. Within 10 days therefrom the clerk of the district court shall file with the clerk of the circuit court a transcript of the cause including all the material entries in the docket of the district court and all of the original papers relating to the case. Thereupon the district court shall proceed no further with the cause. The case shall be considered transferred to the circuit court which shall then have jurisdiction to try and determine the cause.

(2) The responding party shall have 10 days after the final date allowed for the transcript to be filed in the circuit court within which to plead further. If the district clerk fails to file a transcript within the time specified, a judge of the circuit court may order him to do so within a specified time.

(3) If the moving party prevails in the circuit court, the costs of transfer borne by him may be taxed as costs.

46.080 Jurisdiction in ancillary, supplemental and incidental proceedings. In civil actions the district courts shall have jurisdiction, as in like cases in the circuit courts, in every ancillary, incidental and supplemental proceeding, before and after judgment, including the provisional remedies of arrest, attachment and delivery of personal property claimed in the action as well as interpleader, trial of rights of personal property, and exemption, aid of execution, revival and renewal of judgment, the direction of references, and the taking of accounts where necessary to preserve the property or rights of any party to an action of which the district court has jurisdiction. All affidavits, orders and undertakings for such provisional, ancillary or supplemental proceedings are to be filed with the clerk of the district court, and such process is to be issued by him and may be made returnable before the judge of the court, or, where the court has more than one judge, before any of the judges. Supplemental process against the personal property of the judgment debtor may be issued by the clerk of the district court to the sheriff of any county in this state. A writ of arrest or of attachment or an order for the delivery of personal property claimed in the action may be served and executed by any person authorized to serve a summons.
