GENERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR DISPOSITION OF REALTY

93.010 Conveyances, how made.

Conveyances of lands, or of any estate or interest therein, may be made by deed, signed by the person of lawful age from whom the estate or interest is intended to pass, or by his lawful agent or attorney, and acknowledged or proved, and recorded without any other act or ceremony. No seal of the grantor, corporate or otherwise, shall be required on the deed.

[Amended by 1965 c.502 s.4]

93.020 Creating, transferring or declaring estates or interests in realty. (1) No estate or interest in real property, other than a lease for term not exceeding one year, nor any trust or power concerning such property, can be created, transferred or declared otherwise than by operation of law or by a conveyance or other instrument in writing, subscribed by the party creating, transferring or declaring it, or by his lawful agent under written authority, and executed with such formalities as are required by law.

(2) This section does not affect the power of a testator in the disposition of his real property by a last will and testament, nor to prevent a trust from arising or being extinguished by implication or operation of law, nor to affect the power of a court to compel the specific performance of an agreement in relation to such property.

93.030 Contracts to convey or instruments of conveyance to state consideration. (1) All instruments conveying or contracting to convey fee title to any real estate shall state on the face of such instruments the true and actual consideration paid for such transfer, stated in terms of dollars. As used in this section, "consideration" includes the amount of cash and the amount of any lien, mortgage, contract, indebtedness or other encumbrance existing against the property to which the property remains subject or which the purchaser agrees to pay or assume. However, if the actual consideration consists of or includes other property or other value given or promised, neither the monetary value nor a description of such other property or value need be stated so long as it is noted on the face of the instrument that other property or value was either part or the whole consideration.

(2) The statement of consideration as required by subsection (1) of this section shall be made by a grantor or a grantee. Failure to make such statement does not invalidate the conveyance.

(3) If the statement of consideration is in the body of the instrument preceding the signatures, execution of the instrument shall constitute a certification of the truth of the statement. If there is a separate statement of consideration on the face of the instrument, it shall be signed separately from the instrument, and such execution shall constitute a certification of the truth of the statement by the person signing. No particular form is required for the statement so long as the requirements of this section are reasonably met.

(4) No instrument conveying or contracting to convey fee title to any real estate shall be accepted for recording by any county clerk or recording officer in this state unless the statement of consideration required by this section is included on the face of the instrument.

(5) This section applies to instruments executed on or after January 1, 1968.

[1967 c.462 ss.1, 3; 1967 s.s. c.7 s.1]

SPECIAL MATTERS IN PARTICULAR CONVEYANCES

93.110 Quitclaim deed sufficient to pass estate. A deed of quitclaim and release, of the form in common use, is sufficient to pass all the estate which the grantor could lawfully convey by a deed of bargain and sale.

93.120 Words of inheritance unnecessary to convey fee; conveyances deemed to convey all grantor's estate. The term "heirs," or other words of inheritance, is not necessary to create or convey an estate in fee simple. Any conveyance of real estate passes all the estate of the grantor, unless the intent to pass a lesser estate appears by express terms, or is necessarily implied in the terms of the grant.

93.130 Conveyance of land in adverse possession of another. No grant or conveyance of lands or interest therein is void for the reason that at the time of its execution the lands were in the actual possession of another claiming adversely.

93.140 Implied covenants. No covenant shall be implied in any conveyance of real estate, whether it contains special con-venants or not, except as provided by ORS 93.850 to 93.870.

[Amended by 1973 c.194 s.6]

93.150 Conveyance by tenant of greater estate than that possessed. A conveyance made by a tenant for life or years, purporting to grant a greater estate than he possesses or could lawfully convey, does not work a forfeiture of his estate, but passes to the grantee all the estate which the tenant could lawfully convey.

93.160 Conveyance by reversioners and remaindermen to life tenant vests fee. Where real property has been devised to a person for life, and in case of the death of the life tenant without leaving lawful issue born alive and living at the time of his death, then to other heirs of the testator, a conveyance to the life tenant from all reversioners or remaindermen and all issue of the life tenant as are in being, of all their interest in the real property, vests a fee simple estate in the life tenant.

93.170[Repealed by 1969 c.591 s.305]

93.180 Tenancy in common, when created; joint tenancy abolished. Every conveyance or devise of lands, or interest therein, made to two or more persons, other than to executors and trustees, as such, creates a tenancy in common unless it is expressly declared in the conveyance or devise that the grantees or devisees take the lands as joint tenants. Joint tenancy is abolished and all persons having an undivided interest in real property are to be deemed and considered tenants in common.

93.190 Trustees or personal representatives as joint tenants; filling vacancies in office. (1) Every conveyance, deed of trust, mortgage or devise of an interest in or lien upon real or personal property to two or more persons as trustees or personal representatives, creates a joint tenancy in such interest or lien in the trustees or personal representatives unless it is expressly declared in the conveyance, deed of trust, mortgage or devise that the trustees or personal representatives shall take or hold the property as tenants in common or otherwise.

(2) If the conveyance, deed of trust, mortgage or devise provides for filling any vacancy in the office of trustee or personal representative, it may be filled as therein provided, but a court of competent jurisdiction may fill a vacancy in the trusteeship according to the established rules and principles of equity. In whichever way the vacancy is filled, the new trustee shall hold the property with all powers, rights and duties of an original trustee unless otherwise directed by conveyance, deed of trust, mortgage or devise, or order or decree of the court.

[Amended by 1969 c.591 s.275]

93.200 Trustees or executors now hold as joint tenants. All trustees or executors holding real or personal property in trust on May 19, 1905, hold as joint tenants and not as tenants in common unless the conveyance, deed of trust, mortgage or devise, or order or decree of court creating or appointing the trustees or executors has declared otherwise.

93.210 Presumption respecting deed from trustee of undisclosed beneficiary. If a deed to real estate has been made to a grantee in trust or designating the grantee as trustee, and no beneficiary is indicated or named in the deed, a deed thereafter executed by such grantee conveying the property is presumed to have been executed with full right and authority and conveys prima facie title to the property. The grantee in the last-mentioned deed is under no duty whatsoever to see to the application of the purchase price. If the last-mentioned deed is recorded after June 7, 1937, after five years from its recording or, if it was recorded prior to June 7, 1937, then after June 7, 1942, the presumption is conclusive as to any undisclosed beneficiary and the title to the real estate, based upon the last-mentioned deed, shall not be called in question by any one claiming as beneficiary under the first-mentioned deed.

93.220 Release, limitation or restriction of power of appointment. (1) Any person to whom there has been granted or reserved any power of appointment or other power by which he may elect to take any action affecting the disposition of property may at any time release, or, from time to time, limit or restrict such power in whole or in part by an instrument in writing evidencing that purpose and subscribed by him.

(2) If the power is one to affect title to real property, the instrument shall be executed, acknowledged, proved and recorded, or filed with the registrar of title in each county in which the land is situated in the same manner as a conveyance of real property.

(3) If the power is of such nature that its exercise may affect the duty of any trustee or other fiduciary, such trustee or other fiduciary is not bound to take notice thereof unless he has received the original or an executed duplicate of the release or a copy thereof certified by the county clerk or county recorder of the county in which it has been recorded.

93.230 Copy of State Lands Division deed or patent given when original lost.

(1) If parties to whom deeds have been issued by the Division of State Lands have lost such deeds before they were placed on record in the county wherein the land conveyed is located, the Director of the Division of State Lands, on application of the party entitled thereto, shall cause a certified copy of the record of the deed in the office of the division to be issued under its seal.

(2) If parties to whom patents for lands have been issued by the United States for lands in the State of Oregon have lost such patents before they were placed on record in the county wherein the land conveyed is located, such parties, or their successors in interest, may apply to and obtain from the Bureau of Land Management, or its successor agency, copies of the records of such patents, duly certified to be correct copies of the original patents, or of the record thereof, by the appropriate federal officer.

(3) Every certified copy issued in accordance with subsection (1) or (2) of this section is entitled to record in the proper county with like effect as the original deed or patent. Every such copy so certified may be read in evidence in any court in this state without further proof thereof. The record of any such certified copy, or a transcript thereof certified by the county clerk in whose office it may have been recorded, may be read in evidence in any court in this state with like effect as the original thereof or the original lost deed or patent.
[Amended by 1967 c.421 s.197]

93.240 Rights to deferred instalments of purchase price where two or more persons join as sellers in contract of sale of real property. (1) Subject to the provisions contained in this section, whenever two or more persons join as sellers in the execution of a contract of sale of real property, unless a contrary purpose is expressed in the contract, the right to receive payment of deferred instalments of the purchase price shall be owned by them in the same proportions, and with the same incidents, as title to the real property was vested in them immediately preceding the execution of the contract of sale.

(2) If immediately prior to the execution of a contract of sale of real property title to any interest in the property therein described was vested in the sellers or some of the sellers as tenants by the entirety or was otherwise subject to any right of survivorship, then, unless a contrary purpose is expressed in the contract, the right to receive payment of deferred instalments of the purchase price of the property shall likewise be subject to like rights of survivorship.

(3) Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to modify or amend the provisions of subsection (4) of ORS 118.010 relating to inheritance taxes payable by reason by succession by survivorship as provided by subsection (2) of this section.
[1957 c.402 ss.1, 2; 1969 c.591 s.276]

93.250 Effect of conveyance creating fee simple conditional or fee tail.

Every conveyance or devise of lands, or interest therein, made subsequent to September 9, 1971, using language appropriate to create a fee simple conditional or fee tail estate shall create an estate in fee simple absolute in the grantees or devisees of such conveyances or devises. Any future interest limited upon such an interest is a limitation upon the fee simple absolute and its validity is determined accordingly.
[1971 c.382 s.1]

93.260 Tax statement information required in conveyancing instrument. (1)

All instruments prepared for the purpose of conveying or contracting to convey fee title to any real estate shall contain on the face of such instruments a statement in substantially the following form:

Until a change is requested, all tax statements shall be sent to the following address:

(2) Failure to contain the statement required by this section does not invalidate the conveyance and if an instrument is recorded without the statement required by this section, the recording is valid.

(3) This section applies to all instruments executed after January 1, 1974.
[1973 c.422 s.2]

93.270 Certain discriminatory restrictions in conveyancing instruments prohibited. (1) No person conveying or contracting to convey fee title to real property shall include in an instrument for such purpose a provision restricting the use of the real property by any person or group of persons by reason of color, race, religion or national origin.

(2) Any such provision in an instrument executed in violation of subsection (1) of this section is void and unenforceable.
[1973 c.258 s.1]

93.280 Manner of conveyance to create joint property rights. (1) Any person or persons owning real property which he or they have power to convey may convey such property by a conveyance naming himself or themselves and another person or persons, or one or more of themselves and another person or other persons, as grantees. The conveyance shall have the same effect as a conveyance from a stranger who owned the property to the persons named as grantees.

(2) Any two or more persons owning real property which they have power to convey may convey such property by a conveyance naming one, or more than one, of all such persons, as grantees. The conveyance shall have the same effect as a conveyance from a stranger who owned the property to the persons named as grantees.

(3) Any "person" mentioned in this section may be a married person, and any "persons" so mentioned may be married to each other.

[1973 c.209 ss.1, 2, 3]

UNIFORM VENDOR AND PURCHASER RISK ACT

93.290 Risk of loss after contract to sell realty has been executed. Any contract made on or after August 3, 1955, in this state for the purchase and sale of realty shall be interpreted as including an agreement that the parties shall have the following rights and duties, unless the contract expressly provides otherwise:

(1) If, when neither the legal title nor the possession of the subject matter of the contract has been transferred, all or a material part thereof is destroyed without fault of the purchaser or is taken by eminent domain, the vendor cannot enforce the contract, and the purchaser is entitled to recover any portion of the price that he has paid;

(2) If, when either the legal title or the possession of the subject matter of the contract has been transferred, all or any part thereof is destroyed without fault of the vendor or is taken by eminent domain, the purchaser is not thereby relieved from a duty to pay the price, nor is he entitled to recover any portion thereof that he has paid.

[1955 c.144 s.1]

93.295 Construction of ORS 93.290 to 93.300. ORS 93.290 to 93.300 shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate their general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact the Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Risk Act.
[1955 c.144 s.2]

93.300 Short title. ORS 93.290 to 93.300 may be cited as the Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Risk Act.
[1955 c.144 s.3]

DESCRIPTIONS, INCLUDING THE OREGON COORDINATE SYSTEM

93.310 Rules for construing description of real property. The following are the rules for construing the descriptive part of a conveyance of real property, when the construction is doubtful, and there are no other sufficient circumstances to determine it:

(1) Where there are certain definite and ascertained particulars in the description, the addition of others, which are indefinite, unknown or false, does not frustrate the conveyance, but it is to be construed by such particulars, if they constitute a sufficient description to ascertain its application.

(2) When permanent and visible or ascertained boundaries or monuments are inconsistent with the measurement, either of lines, angles or surfaces, the boundaries or monuments are paramount.

(3) Between different measurements which are inconsistent with each other, that of angles is paramount to that of surfaces, and that of lines paramount to both.

(4) When a road or stream of water not navigable is the boundary, the rights of the grantor to the middle of the road, or the thread of the stream, are included in the conveyance, except where the road or bed of the stream is held under another title.

(5) When tidewater is the boundary, the rights of the grantor to low watermark are included in the conveyance, and also the right of this state between high and low watermark.

(6) When the description refers to a map, and that reference is inconsistent with other particulars, it controls them, if it appears that the parties acted with reference to the map; otherwise the map is subordinate to other definite and ascertained particulars.

93.320 Oregon Coordinate System; zones. (1) The system of plane coordinates which has been established by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey for defining and stating the positions or locations of points on the surface of the earth within the State of Oregon is known and designated as the "Oregon Coordinate System."

(2) For the purpose of the use of this system the state is divided into a "north zone" and a "south zone."

(3) The area included in the following counties on June 16, 1945, constitutes the north zone: Baker, Benton, Clackamas, Clatsop, Columbia, Gilliam, Grant, Hood River, Jefferson, Lincoln, Linn, Marion, Morrow, Multnomah, Polk, Sherman, Tillamook, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco, Washington, Wheeler and Yamhill.

(4) The area included in the following counties on June 16, 1945, constitutes the south zone: Coos, Crook, Curry, Deschutes, Douglas, Harney, Jackson, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Lane and Malheur.

(5) The use of the term "Oregon Coordinate System" on any map, report of survey or other document, is limited to coordinates based on the Oregon Coordinate System as defined in ORS 93.330.

93.330 Definition. (1) For more precisely defining the Oregon Coordinate System, the following definition by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey is adopted:

(a) The Oregon Coordinate System, north zone, is a Lambert conformal projection of the Clarke Spheroid of 1866, having standard parallels at north latitudes 44 degrees 20 minutes and 46 degrees 00 minutes, along which parallels the scale shall be exact. The origin of coordinates is at the intersection of the meridian 120 degrees 30 minutes west of Greenwich and the parallel 43 degrees 40 minutes north latitude. This origin is given the coordinates: $x=2,000,000$ feet and $y=0$ feet.

(b) The Oregon Coordinate System, south zone, is a Lambert conformal projection of the Clarke Spheroid of 1866, having standard parallels at north latitudes 42 degrees 20 minutes and 44 degrees 00 minutes along which parallels the scale shall be exact. The origin of coordinates is at the intersection of the meridian 120 degrees 30 minutes west of Greenwich and the parallel 41 degrees 40 minutes north latitude. This origin is given the coordinates: $x=2,000,000$ feet and $y=0$ feet.

(2) The position of the Oregon Coordinate System shall be as marked on the ground by triangulation or traverse stations established in conformity with the standards adopted by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey for first-order and second-order work, whose geodetic positions have been rigidly adjusted on the North American datum of 1927, and whose coordinates have been computed on the system defined in this section. Any such station may be used for establishing a survey connection with the Oregon Coordinate System.

93.340 Use of terms in land description. (1) As established for use in the north zone, the Oregon Coordinate System shall be named, and in any land description in which it is used it shall be designated the "Oregon Coordinate System, north zone."

(2) As established for use in the south zone, the Oregon Coordinate System shall be named, and in any land description in which it is used it shall be designated the "Oregon Coordinate System, south zone."

(3) When any tract of land to be defined by a single description extends from one into the other of the coordinate zones mentioned in ORS 93.320, the positions of all points on its boundaries may be referred to either of those zones, the zone which is used being specifically named in the description.

93.350 Plane coordinates. The plane coordinates of a point on the earth's surface, used in expressing the position or location of such point in the appropriate zone of the Oregon Coordinate System, shall consist of two distances, expressed in feet and decimals of a foot. One of these distances, to be known as the "x-coordinate," shall give the position in an east and west direction; the other, to be known as the "y-coordinate," shall give the position in a north and south direction. These coordinates shall be made to depend upon and conform to the coordinates, on the Oregon Coordinate System, of the triangulation and traverse stations of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey within the State of Oregon, as those coordinates have been determined by that survey.

93.360 Coordinates exempted from recordation. No coordinates based on the Oregon Coordinate System, purporting to define the position of a point on a land boundary, shall be presented to be recorded in any public land records or deed records unless that point is within one-half mile of a triangulation or traverse station established in conformity with the standards prescribed in ORS 93.330. However, the one-half mile limitation may be modified by an authorized state agency to meet local conditions.

93.370 Description as supplemental; conflict in description. If coordinates based on the Oregon Coordinate System are used to describe any tract of land which in the same document is also described by reference to any subdivision, line or corner of the United States public land surveys, the description by coordinates is construed as supplemental to the basic description of that subdivision, line or corner contained in the official plats and field notes filed of record. In the event of any conflict the description by reference to the subdivision, line or corner of the United States public land surveys prevails over the description by coordinates.

93.380 Purchaser or mortgagee not required to rely on description. Nothing contained in ORS 93.320 to 93.370 requires any purchaser or mortgagee to rely on a description, any part of which depends exclusively upon the Oregon Coordinate System.

EXECUTION, ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND PROOF OF INSTRUMENTS

93.410 Execution and acknowledgment of deeds. Such recordation, whether the instrument be recorded prior to or subsequent to May 29, 1963, constitutes notice to third persons of the rights of the parties under the instrument irrespective of whether the party granted such interest or estate is in possession of the real property. Any such instrument when so acknowledged or proved, or certified in the manner prescribed by law by any of the authorized officers, may be read in evidence without further proof thereof.
