(3) At the local level, the intermediate education district shall provide professional services and facilities in education and shall furnish such services and facilities, on a cooperative basis with local districts, as may further the intent and purposes of this chapter.

The board shall make such determination as follows:

(1) From the total amount of taxes extended on the assessment and tax rolls pursuant to levies for the current school year by all school districts within the intermediate education district and by the intermediate education district, there shall be deducted the amounts included in such taxes for the payment of the principal of and the interest on school district bonds, for the

(4) Fifty percent of the estimated local tax levies for operating purposes as determined under this section shall be certified to the intermediate education district board under ORS 334.270.

However, the board may make any necessary revisions of its levy and apportionment prior to July 1, by action recorded in its minutes.

(2) Before July 15 of each year, the intermediate education district board shall certify the amount of its tax levy and the apportionment to the county assessor. The levy for elementary purposes shall amount to two-thirds of the total levy and the levy for high school purposes shall amount to one-third of the total levy. Before July 15 of such year, the board shall certify to the county assessor the amount of its levy for elementary purposes and the amount of its levy for high school purposes. The county assessor shall extend the levies for elementary and high school purposes on the assessment and tax rolls as levies of the intermediate education district board, applicable at a uniform rate or rates to all taxable property within the intermediate education district, including joint districts in adjacent counties that are included in the intermediate education district. The levy for elementary purposes shall apply to all taxable property in the district for which elementary education is provided by a school district within the intermediate education district. 334.290 Manner of apportionment of proceeds of tax levy. (1) The apportionment required by ORS 334.280 shall be made as follows: After first setting aside for its own expenses and for the expenses of the superintendent for the intermediate education district the amounts budgeted therefor pursuant to ORS 334.240 for the school year commencing on July 1 of such year, and after also setting aside such sum as it finds necessary for a distressed school district fund as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the intermediate education district board shall apportion the remainder of its total tax levy to the school districts within the intermediate education district in the proportion that the estimated average daily membership of resident pupils of each such district for such school year bears to the estimated total average daily membership within the intermediate education district. Such estimated average daily memberships shall be determined from the reports of each school district to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the quarter ending on the preceding December 31 or, if these reports are discontinued, from the reports most nearly equivalent thereto. The estimated average daily membership shall be adjusted in the case of each school by deducting the number of children who completed or will complete the highest grade taught therein during the school year ending on June 30 of the current year, and by adding the number of children that the intermediate education district board estimates will enroll in the lowest grade taught in such school during the school year beginning on July 1 of the current year. School districts paying tuition for the education of resident pupils attending school in another school district shall be credited with the average daily membership of such pupils in making the apportionment.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) of this section, a school district is a distressed district if the intermediate education district board finds, by resolution recorded in its minutes, either (a) that such district maintains an elementary school with less than 6,000 total days membership or a high school with less than 13,500 total days membership, and that the continued operation of such school is necessary because of the isolation thereof and the difficulty and expense of transporting the pupils in such school to other school facilities; or (b) that the true cash value of the taxable property in the district per pupil in average daily membership is less than 50 percent of the average of the true cash value per pupil in the intermediate education district. The sum to be set aside in the distressed district fund provided for in subsection (1) of this section shall be such sum as the intermediate education district board considers reasonable as supplemental assistance for such distressed districts. However, the supplemental assistance allowed to any distressed district shall not exceed the amount which such district will receive pursuant to subsection (1) of this section for such an isolated school, or for the entire distressed district if its true cash value per pupil is less than 50 percent of the average within the intermediate education district. All or any part of the amounts so allowed as supplemental assistance shall be distributed to each distressed district from the special distressed district fund at such times as the intermediate education district board considers proper.

(2) The amount which each such school board certifies to the county assessor before July 15 of each year as the levy of the district shall be determined by the district school board without including in the anticipated receipts of the district the sum or sums to be apportioned to the district by the intermediate education district board pursuant to ORS 334.250 to 334.290.

(3) The county assessor shall subtract from the tax levy of each such school district the sum or sums apportioned to the district by the intermediate education district board pursuant to ORS 334.250 to 334.290, as
