The commissioner may, in the name of the people of the State of Oregon through the Attorney General or the district attorney of any county in the state, apply for an injunction in any court of competent jurisdiction, to enjoin any person, firm, association or corporation from engaging in the business of debt consolidating. Any such court may, as in cases relating to injunction in the state, issue temporary or permanent injunctions as the circumstances shall require; and in case of the violation of any injunction issued under this section, the court, or any judge thereof, may summarily try and punish the offender for contempt of court for each violation. In the case of individual licensees, operators and solicitors, the civil penalty shall not be more than $100 for each offense or $500 in the aggregate for all offenses within any three-month period. Each violation shall be deemed a separate offense.

(2) In addition to the civil penalty set forth in subsection (1) of this section, any person who violates any provision of this chapter, any lawful rule, regulation or final order of the commissioner or any final judgment or decree made by a court upon application to the commissioner, may be required to forfeit and pay to the General Fund of the State Treasury a civil penalty in an amount determined by the commissioner but not to exceed the amount by which such person profited in any transaction which violates any such provision, rule, regulation, order, judgment or decree.

(3) Such civil penalty may be recovered in an action brought thereon in the name of the State of Oregon in any court of appropriate jurisdiction.

(4) In any court action with respect to a civil penalty, the court may review the penalty as to both liability and reasonableness of amount.

(5) The provisions of this section are in addition to and not in lieu of any other enforcement provision contained in this chapter.

(6) The commissioner may mitigate any penalty provided for in this section on such terms as he considers proper upon a finding that the circumstances are such that it would be in the interest of justice to mitigate this penalty.
